

Eye Spy NEWSLETTER

Sept. 25th, 2009

What a week! I can't believe that it is Friday again! We are getting close to the Fall Break already!

Again, at the end of this newsletter is a secret code for you parents to solve. Send the answer to the secret message on Monday, written in letter form, and your child will win a trip to the Skittles box!*

Citizen of the Week:

Last week's citizen was Grace. This week, we are honoring Spencer Wright as our citizen!

Mystery Reader:

Last week's mystery reader was a huge hit! Katie R.'s grandpa was visiting from out of town and did a great job of reading to the kids.

This week's mystery reader is...(drumroll, please!) Dr. Montgomery! The kids loved getting to know him a little better through the clues that he left.

Also, a big thank you to Ms. Merrick, for creating an AWESOME new Mystery Reader curtain to pull over the door on Fridays. It is so cool!

Cookie Lee Sales:

This fundraiser is a great way to support the PFA's efforts to fund many much-needed things here! All order forms need to be in by Oct. 2nd.

Book Order:

I sent an email earlier this week with information about how to order books online. Each online order gives our class library one book!

HELP US!

Please continue to support your students by working with them on getting instant recognition of crucial math facts. If they don't have instant recognition of addition facts, have them practice addition flash cards, if subtraction, do multiplication

Thank you, volunteers! You are so appreciated!

Spelling List, week 5:

outside
inside
baseball
basketball
football
toothache
playground
birdhouse
sandbox
shoelace
hamburger
cheeseburger
wheelchair
bookkeeper
daydream
halfway

underground
thunderstorm

DECODE THIS, PARENTS!!!!

This code looks confusing but, is simple.
This first letter of each word has been replaced by a random letter.

WHE CIRST OETTER PF KACH EORD JS ZRONG
(THE FIRST LETTER OF EACH WORD IS WRONG)

rho zas vhis geek's oystery ieader?